How to access this weekly newsletter and Weekend Challenges

The Rag is available on our school website, and on every child's Tapestry account. We are encouraging families to access the electronic versions as we would like to reduce the number of paper copies we print each week.

The online version of this week's Rag has been adapted to include a challenge for your child to complete and earn a class raffle ticket.

Have a look online!

This week's 'Congratulations' go to...

Ash Class – Eden, you are a sentence superstar. You have been choosing to make and write sentences in all areas of the classroom this week and have even begun to read your sentences back to make sure they make sense.

Elm Class – Amiyah, for her wonderful independent writing this week. She uses her sounds when writing a sentence, uses finger spaces and spells tricky words correctly. She has blown us away this week. We are so proud!!!!

Oak Class – Jacob, you have made such rapid progress with your phonics, especially blending. All your reading at home really helps.

Holly Class – Evelyn, for being a super role model on our trip to the Lickey Hills, you showed all of our school values and really enjoyed exploring the outdoors. Thank you.

Hazel Class – Charlie, for being a school values champ this week. We are very proud of how you are coming into school with a big smile and trying your best, even when the work is a bit tricky.

Willow Class – Kye for your independent writing skills. We are so impressed at how he can say and write his own sentences and works hard to apply his phonic knowledge. His stamina in writing has improved so much. Well done Kye.

Chestnut Class – Lara, all of the teachers in Chestnut Class have spotted you being kind in school this week. She has been aware of other children's feelings and has been quick to ensure everyone feels happy and included in Chestnut Class. Thank you Lara.

Hawthorn Class – Shanvi, her writing has been super this week. She has tried her very best to get her grammar correct this week, which she doesn't always find easy.

Sycamore Class – Freddie, you had a fantastic time on the trip to the Lickey Hills yesterday. He thoroughly enjoyed himself and participated sensibly in all the activities.

Well done to everyone!
