Class Assemblies this week it was Holly and Hawthorn Classes' turn to share their learning with parents. They shared an impressive range of subject knowledge and shone with confidence.

We are looking forward to our last two classes Elm and Oak Class assemblies next Tuesday, 19th March.

Please can we remind parents not to put filled water bottles inside book bags. Books are getting ruined due to leaking bottles. Thank you.

This week's 'Congratulations' go to...

Ash Class — Ahmad, you have settled back into Ash Class so well. You are encouraging your friends to join in with your play and are creating lots of fun games.

Elm Class — Bella B, you are such a kind, caring girl who is a friend to everyone. You always help anyone who needs it and it's a pleasure to have you in our class. Thank you.

Oak Class — Heidi, you are such an important part of oak class as you are always enthusiastic and a kind friend to everyone.

Holly Class — Zara A, you have amazed us with your writing this week. You have written some lovely sentences about the smartest giant in town using the conjunction 'and' to extend your ideas. Keep up the good work.

Hazel Class — Harper, you were able to follow your design to create your model of a bus. You also thought carefully about the little details you wanted to add too. Well done.

Willow Class — Abigail, we are so impressed with your perseverance during writing this week. You are trying so hard to work independently and are beginning to realise that you can do it. Keep it up.

Chestnut Class — Edison, for your excellent attitude towards all of your learning this week. You have been trying hard and your hard work has paid off. Keep it up.

Hawthorn Class — George, you are an invaluable member of Hawthorn, a role-model to everyone and very reliable. You are progressing in all curriculum areas and should be incredibly proud of yourself.

Sycamore Class — Felicity, you take your learning from school to home (and home to school). It is lovely to see you complete challenges and show us places you've visited on Tapestry.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!
15th March 2024 to 21st March 2024

Rana in Ash will be 5

Olivia in Hazel will be 6

Stewart in Holly will be 6
